EXPLANATION OF BENEFITS

All-access consulting. ImmigrationWorks president Tamar Jacoby can provide confidential, industry-tailored immigration expertise and counsel to association executives. She advises on immigration policy and politics and can assist with industry-specific immigration messaging.

Small policy dinners with members of Congress and other lawmakers. An opportunity for business leaders to connect with lawmakers who can make a difference on immigration. Get to know newly elected members of Congress, compare notes with long-time legislative champions of better policy. Gatherings are intimate and off the record.

The opportunity to have IW president Tamar Jacoby speak at your association or event. A nationally known journalist and author, Tamar Jacoby is a leading center-right voice in favor of immigration reform. A veteran of the 2006 and 2007 Senate battles for a comprehensive overhaul, she helped jumpstart many of the state coalitions in the IW network and is a regular guest on national television and radio.

Access to the ImmigrationWorks Legal Advisory Committee. IW's Legal Advisory Committee includes some of the country's leading experts on immigration law: former legal staff from the Senate, the White House and the Department of Homeland Security, along with seasoned litigators and attorneys from top immigration law firms. Teams are available to help review proposed legislation and counsel companies on negotiating with lawmakers.

The opportunity to join the Business Working Group and IW's Corporate Leaders Circle. The Business Working Group brings together companies and trade associations from across the sectors that hire immigrants – high-tech, service-sector, seasonal and agricultural employers – to discuss common concerns and consider joint strategy. The Corporate Leaders Circle is made up of national corporations and large regional companies that come together for small private dinners and periodic conference calls with members of Congress and administration officials at the forefront of the immigration debate.

Receive IW policy briefs, economic analyses and in-depth quarterly updates on state and federal policy developments. Recent publications include Another Round: Immigration Lawmaking in the States (July 2011), Selecting for Immigration: What Role for a Point System (December 2010) and The Economic Benefits of H-2B Workers (November 2010). Talking points are available on the economic benefits of immigration, worker visas, worksite enforcement, E-Verify and more. Only associations contributing $10,000 annually have permission to distribute this material to members.

Invitations to ImmigrationWorks' national and regional summit meetings. Join business owners and trade association executives from across America at ImmigrationWorks' regular national and regional events. Past summits took place in Houston, Atlanta, Seattle and Washington, DC. Speakers included members of Congress, local elected officials, nationally known political strategists, leading immigration policy experts and employers engaged in the battle for reform. ImmigrationWorks events are excellent educational and networking opportunities.

Participate in monthly conference calls with leading voices in the immigration debate. Stay on top of the latest immigration-related developments in Washington and the states. IW's monthly conference calls are designed to complement its electronic news alerts and legislative updates. Calls feature experts and inside players from Congress, the White House, the Department of Homeland Security, the Washington business community and IW's national network of business advocates. Join to discuss the latest news about immigration policy and politics.

Participate in regular IW conference calls on compliance with expert practitioners of immigration law. Top attorneys from across the country explain new DHS enforcement strategies and counsel employers on how to comply. What does ICE's latest enforcement tactic mean for your business? How will the Department of Labor's new regulations affect you? Join an IW compliance call to find out how best to respond to these and other enforcement initiatives.
